

Webinar to Discuss the Community Selection Process and 2020 Community Recommendations under the Community Air Protection Program

The California Air Resources Board (CARB) staff invite you to a webinar to discuss the community selection process and new community recommendations for participation in the Community Air Protection Program (Program). This Program focuses on improving public health in communities that experience disproportionate burdens from exposure to air pollutants. You can ask questions, share your ideas, and engage in discussion on topics like:

- Selection process considerations in determining candidate communities; and
- CARB staff's initial ideas for communities to be considered for recommendation this year or in subsequent years of the Program.

Date: JUNE 30, 2020
Time: 4:00 PM – 6:00 PM

Registration Information:
