Section 95912(d)(4)(E) of the Cap-and-Trade Regulation requires that each auction application include an attestation disclosing the existence and status of any ongoing investigation or an investigation that has occurred within the last ten years regarding any alleged violation of any rule, regulation, or law associated with any commodity, securities, environmental, or financial market for the entity participating in the auction. Section 95912(d)(4)(E) also applies this disclosure requirement to all other entities with whom the auction applicant has a corporate association, direct corporate association, or indirect corporate association pursuant to section 95833 that participate in a carbon, fuel, or electricity market. Further, the attestation must be updated before each auction to reflect any change in the status of an investigation since the most recent auction application attestation was submitted. Additional information on this requirement is included in the CARB's October 2014 Instructional Guidance, available at:
