Background

To meet the requirements of AB 423, CARB is evaluating the SDAPCD programs put in place to protect public health and looking for areas of potential improvement. This workshop is the second public workshop on this topic. Due to COVID travel limitations, this review has been delayed from the original AB 423 timeline. CARB has recently released an interim report that describes how the review will be conducted and will publish a final report containing findings and recommendations in Spring of 2022. In this meeting, our goal is to present a summary of the information in the interim report, including the methods and metrics for evaluating the District programs.
