3. ARB alleges that if the allegations described in recital paragraphs 1 and 2 were proven, civil penalties could be imposed against A.G. as provided in Health and Safety Code(HSC) sections 42402, et seq. for each and every unit involved in the violations.
4. A.G. admits the allegations described in recital paragraphs 1 and 2, but denies any liability resulting from said allegations.

12. No agreement to modify, amend, extend, supersede, terminate, or discharge this Agreement, or any portion thereof, shall be valid or enforceable unless it is in writing and signed by all parties to this Agreement.
13. 1402 Statement. HSC section 39619.7 (Senate Bill 1402 - Dutton, Chapter 413, statutes of 2010) requires ARB to provide information on the basis for the penalties it seeks. This Agreement includes this information, which is also summarized here.

The provision of law the penalty is being assessed under and why that provision is most appropriate for that violation.

The penalty provision being applied in this case is HSC section 42402, et seq. because A.G. sold, supplied, offered for sale, or manufactured for sale consumer products for commerce in California in violation of the Consumer Products Regulations (title 17, CCR, section 94507, et seq.). The penalty provisions of HSC section 42402, et seq. apply to violations of the Consumer Products Regulations because the regulations were adopted under authority of HSC section 41712 which is in Part 4 of Division 26 of the HSC.

The manner in which the penalty amount was determined, including aggravating and mitigating factors and per unit or per vehicle basis for the penalty.

HSC section 42402, et seq. provides strict liability penalties of $1,000 per day for violations of the Consumer Product Regulations with each day being a separate violation. In cases like this, involving unintentional violations of the Consumer Products Regulations where the violator cooperates with the investigation, the ARB has obtained penalties based on the excess emissions of VOC. Investigative costs and an administrative penalty are also obtained in some cases.

In this case the total penalty is $4,900.00, including investigative costs, and there were 0.18 tons of excess VOC emissions attributable to the violation. The penalty in this case was reduced because this was a strict liability first time violation, A.G. changed the formula for the A.G. Hair Cosmetics Curl spray Gel prior to the June 13, 2016 Notice of Violation, and A.G. made diligent efforts to comply and to cooperate with the investigation. Penalties in future cases might be higher or lower on a per ton or per day basis.

Is the penalty being assessed under a provision of law that prohibits the emission of pollution at a specified level, and, if so a quantification of excess emissions, if it is practicable to do so.

The Consumer Product Regulations do not prohibit emissions above a specified level, but they do limit the concentration of VOCs in regulated products. In this case a quantification of the excess emissions attributable to the violations was practicable because A.G. made the product formulation and sales data necessary to make this quantification available to the ARB. Based upon this information (which A.G. has designated as confidential), the violations were calculated to have 0.18 tons of excess VOC emissions emitted in California.

Final penalties were determined based on the unique circumstances of this matter, considered together with the need to remove any economic benefit from noncompliance the goal of deterring future violations and obtaining swift compliance, the consideration of past penalties in similar negotiated cases, and the potential costs and risk associated with litigating these particular violations. The penalty reflects violations extending over a number of days resulting in quantifiable harm to the environment considered together with the complete circumstances of this case. Penalties in future cases might be smaller or larger on a per ton basis.

The final penalty in this case was based in part on confidential financial information or confidential business information provided by A.G. that is not retained by ARB in the ordinary course of business. The penalty in this case was also based on confidential settlement communications between ARB and A.G. that ARB does not retain in the ordinary course of business. The penalty also reflects ARB's assessment of the relative strength of its case against A.G., the desire to avoid the uncertainty, burden and expense of litigation, obtain swift compliance with the law and remove any unfair advantage that A.G. may have secured from its actions.

14. The undersigned represent that they have full power and authority to enter into this Agreement.
