

SETTLEMENT AGREEMENT

This Settlement Agreement (Agreement) is entered into by and between the California Air Resources Board (ARB), with its principal office at 1001 I Street, Sacramento, California, and Hobby Lobby Stores, Inc. (Hobby Lobby), with its principal place of business at 7707 S.W. 44th Street, Oklahoma City, Oklahoma.

RECITALS

1. ARB alleges that from at least January 1, 2011 to August 4, 2014, Hobby Lobby sold, supplied, and offered for sale in California quantities of Tree House Spray Adhesive, which was subject to the volatile organic compound (VOC) limit for Aerosol Adhesives: Web Spray category, title 17, California Code of Regulations (CCR), section 94509(a).
2. ARB alleges Apollo Technologies manufactured Tree House Spray Adhesive for Creative Chemical, who supplied the label, and sold the product as a private label for Hobby Lobby.
3. ARB alleges that the product referenced in recital paragraph 1 contained concentrations of VOCs exceeding the 55 percent VOC limit for the Aerosol Adhesives: Web Spray category specified in title 17, CCR, section 94509(a).
4. ARB alleges that the product described in recital paragraph 1 did not display the VOC category or the VOC category limit as specified in title 17, CCR, section 94512(d).
5. ARB alleges that if the allegations described in recital paragraphs 1, 3 and 4 were proven, civil penalties could be imposed against Hobby Lobby as provided in Health and Safety Code sections 42402, et seq. for each and every unit involved in the violations.
6. Hobby Lobby contends that this product is subject to the "Mist Spray" category, and the 65% VOC limit. Since the product label did not display a category and limit as required, the most restrictive limit for spray adhesives was applied to this product, which is the Web Spray category, with a limit of 55% VOC.
7. Hobby Lobby admits the allegations described in recital paragraphs 1, 3 and 4, but denies any liability resulting from said allegations.
8. The parties agree to resolve this matter completely by means of this Agreement, without the need for formal litigation.

Therefore, the parties agree as follows:

TERMS AND CONDITIONS

1. Hobby Lobby shall not sell, supply or offer for sale for use in California any consumer products in violation of ARB consumer products regulations set forth in title 17, CCR, Section 94500 et seq. however, the terms and conditions set forth in this agreement will remain valid and enforceable notwithstanding any future violations that may occur.
2. Hobby Lobby in settlement of the above-described violations of title 17, CCR, section 94509(a) agrees to pay a penalty to ARB in the amount of $6825.00 payable to the Air Resources Board, concurrent with the execution of this Agreement.
3. This settlement shall apply to and be binding upon Hobby Lobby and its officers, directors, receivers, trustees, employees, successors and assignees, subsidiary and parent corporations and upon ARB and any successor agency that may have responsibility for and jurisdiction over the subject matter of this settlement.
4. The parties stipulate that this Agreement shall be the final resolution of ARB claims regarding the above-described violations and shall have the same res judicata effect as a judgment in terms of acting as bar to any civil action by ARB against Hobby Lobby, its officers, directors, receivers, trustees, employees, successors and assignees, subsidiary and parent corporations. This Agreement shall be deemed the recovery of civil penalties for purposes of precluding subsequent criminal action as provided in Health and Safety Code section 42400.7(a).
5. This Agreement shall be interpreted and enforced in accordance with the laws of the State of California, without regard to California's choice of law rules.
6. This Agreement constitutes the entire agreement and understanding between ARB and Hobby Lobby concerning the claims and settlement in this Agreement, and this Agreement fully supersedes and replaces any and all prior negotiations and agreement of any kind or nature, whether written or oral, between the ARB and Hobby Lobby concerning these claims.
7. No agreement to modify, amend, extend, supersede, terminate, or discharge this Agreement, or any portion thereof, shall be valid or enforceable unless it is in writing and signed by all parties to this Agreement.

8. Each of the undersigned represents and warrants that he or she has full power and authority to enter into this Agreement.
9. SB 1402 Statement. California Health and Safety Code (HSC) section 39619.7 (Senate Bill 1402 - Dutton, Chapter 413, statutes of 2010) requires ARB to provide information on the basis for the penalties it seeks. This Settlement Agreement includes this information, which is also summarized here.

The provision of law the penalty is being assessed under and why that provision is most appropriate for that violation.

The penalty provision being applied in this case is HSC section 42402, et seq. because Hobby Lobby sold, supplied, offered for sale, or manufactured for sale consumer products for commerce in California in violation of the Consumer Products Regulations (Title 17 California Code of Regulations (CCR) section 94507, et seq.). The penalty provisions of HSC section 42402, et seq. apply to violations of the Consumer Products Regulations because the regulations were adopted under authority of HSC section 41712 which is in Part 4 of Division 26 of the Health and Safety Code. The penalty provisions of HSC section 42402, et seq. apply to requirements adopted pursuant to Part 4.

The manner in which the penalty amount was determined, including aggravating and mitigating factors and per unit or per vehicle basis for the penalty.

Penalties must be set at levels sufficient to discourage violations. ARB considered all relevant circumstances in determining penalties, including the eight factors specified in HSC section 42403.

HSC section 42402, et seq. provides strict liability penalties of $1,000 per day for violations of the Consumer Product Regulations. In cases like this involving unintentional first time violations of the Consumer Products Regulations, the ARB has sought and obtained penalties of approximately $20,000 per ton of excess emissions of volatile organic compounds attributable to the violation. This represents an average cost to retire a ton of volatile organic compound emission credits and reformulate a product to comply with the Consumer Product Regulations. In this case the total penalty is $6,825.00 and there were 0.31 tons of excess VOC attributable to the violation. This represents a penalty of approximately $15,000 per ton of excess emissions plus investigative costs. The penalty was reduced based on the cooperation of Hobby Lobby in the investigation of this case, and additional parties responsible for producing the product and label.

Is the penalty being assessed under a provision of law that prohibits the emission of pollution at a specified level, and, if so a quantification of the excess emissions, if it is practicable to do so.

The Consumer Product Regulations do not prohibit emissions above a specific level, but they do limit the concentration of VOCs in regulated products. In this case a quantification of the excess emissions attributable to the violations was practicable because Hobby Lobby did provide the sales data necessary to make this quantification available to the ARB. In this case, excess emissions were 0.31 tons.

10. Hobby Lobby acknowledges that ARB has complied with SB1402 in investigating and settling this case. Specifically, ARB has considered all relevant facts, including those listed at HSC section 42403, has explained the manner in which the penalty amount was calculated, has identified the provision of law under which the penalty amount is being assessed, and has considered and determined that this penalty is not being assessed under a provision of law that prohibits the emission of pollutants at a specified level.
11. Final penalties were determined based on the unique circumstances of this matter, considered together with the need to remove any economic benefit from noncompliance the goal of deterring future violations and obtaining swift compliance, the consideration of past penalties in similar negotiated cases, and the potential costs and risk associated with litigating these particular violations. The penalty reflects violations extending over a number of days resulting in quantifiable harm to the environment considered together with the complete circumstances of this case listed above. The penalty was discounted in this matter based on the fact that this was a first time violation and the violators made diligent efforts to comply and to cooperate with the investigation. Penalties in future cases might be smaller or larger on a per ton basis.
12. The final penalty in this case was based in part on confidential business information provided by Hobby Lobby that is not retained by ARB in the ordinary course of business. The penalty in this case was also based on confidential settlement communications between ARB and Hobby Lobby that ARB does not retain in the ordinary course of business. The penalty reflects ARB's assessment of the relative strength of its case against Hobby Lobby, the desire to avoid the uncertainty, burden and expense of litigation, obtain swift compliance with the law and remove any unfair advantage that Hobby Lobby may have secured from their actions.
