Workshop Purpose: The California Air Resources Board (CARB) staff invite you to participate in a virtual public workshop to provide input on CARB’s plan to develop a framework for measuring and then reducing the average carbon intensity of the materials that are used in the State of California. At this workshop, staff will introduce the public to building embodied carbon concepts, consult with the public about key topics in developing the framework, including the structure of a potential reporting system for building material embodied carbon, and discuss the public engagement process moving forward. This workshop is the first in a series of workshops and focused meetings with interested parties that CARB will be hosting to inform the rulemaking process related to embodied carbon.
