Comment:

I am the Director of the Permit Services Department at the San Joaquin Valley Air Pollution Control District and am happy to voice support for the Local Government Toolkit.

The Valley Air District is in frequent communication with over 60 local city and county governments in the San Joaquin Valley. As public interest in reducing greenhouse gases has grown, many of these local governmental bodies have expressed to the District a strong desire to quantify GHG inventories and implement GHG reductions, but didn't know where to turn to get started on those efforts.

The Local Government Toolkit provides exactly that type of information and fills a very important role in providing agencies with necessary information and resources. I have shared pre-release versions of the Local Government Toolkit with a few local agencies and have received only positive feedback. Based on these responses, I believe that the Local Government Toolkit will be of significant value to many agencies in the San Joaquin Valley, and we strongly support its implementation and the equally necessary ongoing updating and maintenance of the site.

Comment:

I have worked with local governments in Sonoma County and beyond on climate protection since 2001. Access to the best tools is essential for accelerating action. We commend the Board for providing these tools.

Please let me know if we can assist you.

Thank you for your work for the future.
