I. General

The Staff Report: Initial Statement of Reasons for Rulemaking (staff report), entitled “Public Hearing to Consider the Proposed Amendments to the Regulation for the California Cap on Greenhouse Gas Emissions and Market-Based Compliance Mechanisms,” released January 20, 2026, is incorporated by reference herein. The staff report contained a description of the amendments and the rationale for the Proposed Amendments. On January 20, 2026, all references relied upon and identified in the staff report were made available to the public.

Climate change is one of the most serious environmental threats facing humankind, and California is already feeling its effects and growing impacts to the economy and affordability. A 2024 national report ranked California the worst state for natural disasters fueled by a changing climate, with expected annual losses through 2024 totaling more than $16 billion annually statewide. This regulatory update, which reflects Assembly Bill (AB) 1207 (Irwin, Stats. 2025, ch. 117) providing legislative direction through 2045, will keep momentum for private investment in clean energy and technology to support the State’s air quality and climate targets while growing the economy. California committed to take action to address the threat through the adoption of AB 32 (Nunez, Stats. 2006, ch. 488), which requires California to reduce its statewide greenhouse gas (GHG) emissions to 1990 levels by 2020, a goal achieved several years earlier than mandated, and identifies CARB as the State agency charged with monitoring and regulating sources of the GHG emissions that cause climate change.

In 2025, the Legislature extended the Cap-and-Trade Program to 2045 with a pair of bills, AB 1207 and Senate Bill (SB) 840 (Limón, Stats. 2025, ch. 121), that passed both chambers with a supermajority vote. In AB 1207, the Legislature directed the Cap-and-Trade Program to instead be referred to as the Cap-and-Invest Program, and CARB is implementing that name change. These bills reaffirm the role of the Cap-and-Invest Program in supporting progress toward the 2030 and 2045 GHG emissions reduction targets and include targeted changes to the Program, direction to review the compliance offset protocols, and appropriation of auction revenues.

Following the loss of federal funding opportunities, the Proposed Amendments are critical to leverage private investments and provide additional support for deploying low-carbon technologies, which will be needed this decade to realize the outcomes in the 2022 Scoping Plan Update. The carbon price imparted by the Cap-and-Invest Program is a key signal supporting the necessary flow of investments to GHG emissions reduction activities. Concurrent to the development of the 2022 Scoping Plan Update, the annually updated GHG Emissions Inventory was adjusted to more fully incorporate third-party verified GHG emissions data and correct some errors.

The suite of Proposed Amendments to the Cap-and-Invest Regulation works collectively to ensure the Program provides the long-term price signal and appropriate incentives to support the 2030 target and align with the trajectory for the economy-wide deep decarbonization needed through mid-century. Most significantly, staff propose to revise allowance budgets through 2045 by removing over 1 billion allowances to align with the technical adjustments to the GHG Emissions Inventory and to support achieving the legislative GHG emissions reduction targets for 2030 and 2045. These proposed changes to allowance budgets would increase the stringency of the Program, intensifying incentives for covered entities to invest in GHG emissions reduction activities in the near- and long-term. The package of Proposed Amendments is informed by AB 1207, AB 1279 (Muratsuchi, Stats. 2022, ch. 337), the 2022

Scoping Plan Update, the existing 2030 GHG emissions reduction target enacted through SB 32, evolving State policy, and implementation experience.

A. Mandates and Fiscal Impacts to Local Governments and School Districts

Pursuant to Government Code section 11346.5, subdivision (a)(5), the Board has determined that Proposed Amendments will result in a mandate that would create costs and cost-savings to local agencies and school districts. However, these costs are not reimbursable pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution and Part 7 (commencing with section 17500) of Division 4 of the Government Code. These costs are not reimbursable because the Proposed Amendments neither compel local agencies to provide new governmental functions (i.e., do not require such agencies to provide additional services to the public), nor do they impose requirements that apply only to local agencies or school districts.¹ Costs or cost-savings due to increased stringency of the Cap-and-Invest Program apply to covered entities in all sectors and impact compliance costs for covered entities that produce energy and goods in state. The Proposed Amendments also do not compel local agencies to increase the actual level or quality of services that they already provide the public.² For the foregoing reasons, any costs incurred by local agencies to comply with the Proposed Amendments are not reimbursable.

B. Consideration of Alternatives

For the reasons set forth in the staff report, in staff's comments and responses at the hearing, the record, and in this Final Statement of Reasons for Rulemaking (FSOR), the Board determined that no alternative considered by the agency would be more effective in carrying out the purpose for which the regulatory action was proposed, or would be as effective and less burdensome to affected private persons, or would be more cost-effective to affected private persons and equally effective in implementing the statutory policy or other provisions of law than the action taken by the Board.

Small Business Alternative

The Board has not identified any reasonable alternatives that would lessen any adverse impact on small business. Due to the 25,000 MTCO₂e/year covered emissions threshold for incurring a Cap-and-Invest Program compliance obligation, small businesses typically do not face any direct costs associated with the Regulation for the California Cap on Greenhouse Gas Emissions and Market-Based Compliance Mechanisms (Cap-and-Invest Regulation or Regulation). However, small businesses may be indirectly affected by any increased carbon costs from the Program as the Proposed Amendments impact costs for covered entities that produce energy and goods in state. Costs will vary based on the businesses' use of fossil fuels and ability to reduce the use of fossil fuels in their operations.

II. Modifications Made to the Original Proposal

A. Modifications Approved at the Board Hearing and Provided for in the 15-Day Comment Period

On January 20, 2026, CARB released the Notice of Public Hearing (45-Day Notice) and staff report, titled “Public Hearing to Consider the Proposed Amendments to the Regulation for the California Cap on Greenhouse Gas Emissions and Market-Based Compliance Mechanisms,” for public review. The staff report contains a description of and rationale for the Proposed Amendments. On January 20, 2026, all references relied upon and identified in the staff report were made available to the public. CARB received written comments from 862 commenters during the 45-Day Notice comment period.

CARB subsequently released a Notice of Public Availability of Modified Text and Availability of Additional Documents and Information (15-Day Notice) on April 14, 2026. The text of the proposed regulatory and staff report modifications (15-day Amendments) and additional documents relied upon was posted on CARB’s website at <https://ww2.arb.ca.gov/rulemaking/2026/cap-and-invest2026>, accessible to all stakeholders and interested parties. CARB extended the comment period by an additional five days. CARB received written comments from 215 commenters during the 15-Day Notice comment period.

On May 28-29, 2026, CARB conducted a public hearing. CARB staff informed the Board of the Proposed Amendments to the Cap-and-Invest Regulation, and the Board received written and oral comments from the public. At the conclusion of the hearing, the Board approved Resolution 26-7 for adoption of the Proposed Amendments to the Regulation.

The list below summarizes changes made to the original proposal.

1. Electrical Distribution Utility (EDU) Allocation

In response to stakeholder and legislator concerns about electricity affordability due to reduced EDU allowance allocation in the initial proposal, the 15-day Amendments increased allowance allocation to most EDUs for 2027-2030 by updating the allocation methodology to reflect the effective carbon cost burden associated with Renewables Portfolio Standard (RPS) Program compliance. The 15-day Amendments also removed the initial proposal for post-2030 EDU allocation, which will be reassessed in a future rulemaking to consider the latest data and projections on future electricity demand and balancing Program priorities in light of more stringent future annual allowance budgets.

2. Natural Gas Supplier (NGS) to EDU Allocation Transition

AB 1207 directs CARB to transition allowances provided to investor-owned natural gas suppliers to all EDUs (both investor-owned and publicly owned) by January 1, 2031. The initial proposal set a timeline that transitioned 50% of investor-owned natural gas allowances to EDUs by 2031, and 100% by 2037. In response to comments from utilities, environmental groups, and legislators seeking an accelerated transition, with protections extended for low-income gas ratepayers, the 15-day Amendments reach a 70% transition by 2031, with the remaining 30% of investor-owned gas utility allowances reserved for the benefit of low-income ratepayers to be directed by the California Public Utilities Commission (CPUC). The 15-day Amendments do not establish parameters for this transition post-2030, which will be reassessed in a future rulemaking.

3. Industrial Allocation for Leakage Protection

In response to short-term economic uncertainty caused by federal disruption, loss of incentives, global events and volatile market conditions, the 15-day amendments balance legislative direction, affordability, jobs and near-term concerns while also ensuring emissions reductions through an increase in allowance allocation for most industrial sectors for 2027-2030 by increasing the Cap Adjustment Factor (CAF) that calibrates the share of annual allowance budgets provided for industrial emissions leakage protection. The 15-day Amendments removed the initial proposal for CAFs for industrial allocation after 2030, providing additional time to analyze data on emissions leakage risk and propose updated industrial allocation and any other complementary leakage protection measures post-2030 in a future rulemaking. The 15-day Amendments also made some further changes to product-based allocation benchmarks and product definitions to align industrial allowance allocation with the evolving landscape for in-state manufacturing and the long-term decarbonization trajectory for industrial manufacturing and transportation fuel production identified in CARB's 2022 Scoping Plan Update.

4. Manufacturing Decarbonization Incentive Allocation

The initial proposal included a new proposed mechanism for Manufacturing Decarbonization Incentive (MDI) allocation, which borrowed allowances from future annual budgets to provide additional allowance allocation to eligible industrial facilities that demonstrated investments in low-carbon production methods and fuels. After receiving a wide range of feedback from industry, environmental groups, legislators, and other stakeholders on the initial MDI allocation proposal, staff made a number of changes in the 15-day Amendments, including (1) a shift in the source of MDI allowances from future annual budgets to a new pool of up to 118 million current vintage allowances populated in the Build Up California Reserve Account, which preserves future vintage allowances for sale at auction to raise proceeds for the GGRF as appropriated by the Legislature; (2) expanded sector eligibility to include transportation fuel refineries and oil and gas producers that invest in carbon capture, utilization, and sequestration (CCUS) projects; (3) an updated CAF Modifier to better calibrate the upper bound of MDI allowances available to each facility by compliance period; and (4) various changes to clarify and streamline application, reporting, oversight, and project eligibility requirements that balance the need for near-term incentives to accelerate deployment of industrial decarbonization technologies in support of California's 2030 and 2045 GHG reduction targets with rigorous guardrails to ensure MDI allowance value is only used for these decarbonizing investments, with verified changes in GHGs and fossil fuel use reported to CARB, and any awarded MDI allowances that remain unused by the spending deadline returned to CARB and retired from the Program.

5. Market Rules

In response to stakeholder concerns about compliance costs and administrative burden due to application requirements for the Shared Role Exemption, staff made changes in the 15-day Amendments that a covered entity or opt-in covered entity subject to a direct corporation due to an individual Cap-and-Invest Consultant or Advisor with shared roles is exempt from disclosing the direct corporate association and does not need to apply for any Shared Role Exemption if the individual provides services only to covered entities and does not have a user account in the tracking system. The 15-day Amendments also shorten the delayed deadline for identifying corporate association group (CAG) purchase limit shares and holding limit shares from December 31, 2029, to December 31, 2027, to balance concerns related to short-term price volatility upon immediate implementation of the CAG and concerns related to unintended market incentives related to a longer deadline.

6. Compliance Offsets

In response to stakeholder comments on the initial proposal, staff proposed changes to clarify and streamline listing, reporting, and verification requirements. The newly required report for a change in sequestration offset project ownership is now within 60 days of the ownership transfer instead of prior to the transfer. The 15-day Amendments removed CARB's explicit approval for an earlier site verification visit, and instead approval for an early site visit becomes automatic if the verification body is not notified of an audit. Staff specified an extended timeline for project developers and verifiers to resolve outstanding issues as part of a verifiable offset project data report petition for projects already in verification. Staff made several updates based on stakeholder requests to reversal verification requirements. Staff clarified the verification requirement for projects with direct environmental benefits based on planned activities and the consequences if planned activities are not verified.

B. Non-Substantial Modifications

Subsequent to the 15-day Notice, staff identified the following additional non-substantive changes to the Regulation:

- Section 95893(b)(1)(A)1.: Corrected “publicly owned gas corporations” to “public utility gas corporations”

The above-described modification constitutes a non-substantial change to the regulatory text because it corrects a drafting error that is clearly inconsistent with terms defined in section 95802 and the change described in Section Q.1. of the Notice of Public Availability of Modified Text and Availability of Additional Documents and/or Information for the 15-day Amendments. This change does not materially alter the requirements or conditions of the proposed rulemaking action.

Staff also discovered that one of the sections affected in the 45-day Notice was incorrectly referenced. Section 96001 was referenced but no such section exists. This was a typographical error, and the correct section is 96011. Non-substantive changes to section 96011 were included in the 45-day Notice Package. The corrected section reference has been updated in the Form 400 and Updated Informative Digest.

III. Documents Incorporated by Reference

The regulation adopted by the Board incorporates by reference the following documents:

- American Society for Testing and Material (ASTM) designation D-4806-21, “Standard Specification for Denatured Fuel Ethanol for Blending with Gasolines for Use as Automotive Spark-Ignition Engine Fuel,” April 2021, section 95802(a)
- ASTM C150, “Standard Specification for Portland Cement,” July 2022, section 95802(a)
- ASTM C595, “Standard Specification for Blended Hydraulic Cements,” July 2023, section 95802(a) • ASTM C1157, “Standard Performance Specification for Hydraulic Cement,” September 2023, section 95802(a)

- California Public Utilities Commission (CPUC). “Decision Adopting Customer Climate Credit Updates,” (Decision 21-08-026), August 2021, section 95891(b)(2)
- California Air Resources Board, “California Climate Investments Quantification Methodology Emission Factor Database Documentation” and “Appendix A: Sustainable Communities and Clean Transportation,” January 2024, section 95892(e)(4)(B)2.b. and 95893(e)(4)(B)2.c.
- Internal Revenue Service, “Section 45V Credit for Production of Clean Hydrogen,” July 2024, section 95891(g)(2)(C)1.a.

These documents were incorporated by reference because it would be cumbersome, unduly expensive, and otherwise impractical to publish them in the California Code of Regulations. In addition, some of the documents are copyrighted, and cannot be reprinted or distributed without violating the licensing agreements. The documents are lengthy and highly technical test methods and engineering documents that would add unnecessary additional volume to the Regulation. Distribution to all recipients of the California Code of Regulations is not needed because the interested audience for these documents is limited to the technical staff at a portion of reporting facilities, most of whom are already familiar with these methods and documents. Also, the incorporated documents were made available by CARB upon request during the rulemaking action and will continue to be available in the future. The documents are also available from college and public libraries, or may be purchased directly from the publishers.

CARB has responded to all written and oral comments on the Proposed Amendments to Cap-and-Invest Regulation and the process by which they were adopted. These comments and responses are contained in multiple appendices to the FSOR, sorted by subject matter listed below.

The following notes about the comments and responses are provided to aid with understanding how the comments and responses are structured and labeled:

- Each comment has a unique code, as identified in the tables above. Each code indicates the comment period or context of the submission, followed by an abbreviation or name of the submitter or their affiliation and then a unique number for each comment submitted within that comment period. For example, comment “45d-TPUD-1.1” indicates a comment submitted during the 45-Day Notice comment period, from Trinity Public Utility District, and the “1” is the unique number denoting the submission number and the “.1” indicates a specific comment within the letter.
- Comments are grouped thematically by section and subsection. Each individual comment excerpt is preceded by “Comment:” and followed by its comment identification code, allowing readers to distinguish among individual comment excerpts.
- Comments on the same topic are grouped as “Multiple Comments” and based on when they were received (e.g. A-1.1a in 45-day, A-1.1b 15-day).
- Comments are excerpted verbatim unless otherwise noted. In verbatim comment excerpts, CARB has not corrected or noted errors in the original submissions (for example, by adding “[sic]”). Comment excerpts’ formatting may differ from the formatting of the original comment.
- Footnotes in comments generally have been omitted, though the footnote numbers may remain in the text of the comment excerpt.
- Any references in the Appendices are to the sources referenced in the Notices.

The text of the comments and agency responses are provided in the following Appendices:

- Appendix 1: General Support, General Opposition, Adjustment of Annual Allowance Budgets, Allowance Removals for Offset Use
- Appendix 2: Cost Containment Provisions, Updated Market Rules and Registration Requirements, Changes to Compliance Period Duration
- Appendix 3: EDU Allocation, NGS Allocation, Utility Use-of-Allocated Allowance Value, RPS Adjustment, Emissions Leakage for Imported Electricity, Voluntary Renewable Electricity Program
- Appendix 4: Industrial Emissions Leakage (industrial allowance allocation and Manufacturing Decarbonization Incentive allocation), Changes in Entity Type and Program Exit, Limited Emissions Exemptions, Biomass Derived fuels, CCUS Provisions
- Appendix 5: Compliance Offset Program
- Appendix 6: Economic Analysis, Rulemaking Process, Greenhouse Gas Reduction Fund and Other, Out of Scope

V. Peer Review

Health and Safety Code section 57004 sets forth requirements for peer review of identified portions of rulemakings proposed by entities within the California Environmental Protection Agency, including CARB. Specifically, the scientific basis or scientific portion of a proposed rule may be subject to this peer review process. CARB determined that the rulemaking does not contain new scientific basis or a new scientific portion subject to peer review requirements set forth in section 57004, and thus no new peer review was required.
