Environmental Analysis

CARB, as the lead agency for this nonregulatory action, has prepared a Draft EA in accordance with the requirements of its regulatory program certified by the Secretary of Natural Resources. (California Code of Regulation, title 17, sections 60006-60008; California Code of Regulation, title 14, section 15251, subdivision (d).) The Draft EA is now available. The Draft EA provides a single coordinated programmatic environmental analysis of an illustrative, reasonably foreseeable compliance scenario that could result from implementation of the proposed California Tropical Forest Standard (referred to as the "Proposed Project" in the Draft EA).

The resource areas from the California Environmental Quality Act (CEQA) Guidelines Environmental Checklist were used as a framework for a programmatic environmental analysis of the direct and reasonably foreseeable indirect environmental impacts resulting from implementation of the proposed California Tropical Forest Standard. The Draft EA provides an analysis of both the beneficial and adverse impacts and feasible mitigation measures for the reasonably foreseeable compliance responses associated with the proposed standard.

Using a conservative approach for determining the significance of potential environmental impacts, the California Tropical Forest Standard is anticipated to result in the following beneficial and adverse impacts: beneficial impacts to air quality and greenhouse gas emissions; no adverse impacts to aesthetics, biological resources, cultural resources, energy demand, geology and soils, hazards and hazardous materials, hydrology and water quality, noise, recreation, utilities and service systems; less-than-significant impacts to aesthetics, agriculture and forestry, population, employment and housing, public services, and transportation and traffic; and potentially significant and unavoidable adverse impacts to land use and planning related to local land use plans for non-forest uses and to mineral resources.

Proposed Action

CARB staff will present a written California Tropical Forest Standard, Draft EA, and a staff presentation at the meeting. The standard and related materials may also be obtained from CARB's website:
