Cap-and-Trade benefits all Californians

Including Cap-and-Trade in California’s portfolio of 2030 climate programs is the most cost effective way of achieving the SB 32 target and helps maintain California’s economic strength while improving quality of life.

Cap-and-trade is 4X less costly

TO CALIFORNIA HOUSEHOLDS THAN ALTERNATIVE REGULATIONS

That could have been imposed

The Scoping Plan will lead to

PUBLIC HEALTH BENEFITS IN 2030 WILL LEAD TO

$2 billion IN AVOIDED HEALTH IMPACTS VALUE

Cap-and-Trade helps California meet its carbon pollution reduction goals

The Scoping Plan with Cap-and-Trade is 35%

MORE LIKELY TO ACHIEVE California’s 2030 GHG target

compared to command-and-control only alternatives

1990 levels

40% reduction

If California is not on track to meet the target, additional regulatory actions would be needed
Projects are underway in 98% of the state’s disadvantaged communities

Cap-and-Trade generates revenue to invest in disadvantaged communities & clean technology

Since 2014 $6.1 Billion appropriated

- affordable housing
- public transportation
- renewable energy
- zero-emission vehicles
- environmental restoration
- recycling
- sustainable agriculture
- and much more