Dear Sir or Madam:

The California Air Resources Board (ARB) staff invites you to participate in a webinar on Tuesday, July 1, 2014, to discuss ARB's ongoing assessment of the air quality impacts from biodiesel use. The purpose of the webinar is to discuss ARB's recently completed biodiesel emissions characterization study, the resulting new data, and the preliminary analysis including this additional data.

At the webinar, staff will discuss the study and its experimental approach including the test procedure, fuels, engines, and test cycles. Staff will address related comments on the study from the April 17th workshop. Staff will also present the data from the study and staff's preliminary data analysis. The preliminary conclusions of the data analysis and any updates to the regulatory proposal will be covered at a future workshop. To facilitate the webinar, staff will release the final biodiesel emissions characterization study report, as well as a comprehensive emissions database containing all the data used in the preliminary data analysis.

Webinar information is provided below:

DATE: Tuesday, July 1, 2014
TIME: 10:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. PST
LOCATION: Remote - WEBINAR

To participate, please register at the following website:

<https://www1.gotomeeting.com/register/894851785>

Once registered, a confirmation email by GoToWebinar will be sent to the email address used to register. The confirmation email will provide the direct link for the meeting and instructions on how to join the webinar.

You may also participate by teleconference by dialing 888-989-9727 (for domestic) or 1-415-228-5036 (for international), give the participant code: 3916279, and leader name: Mr. Jim Aguila. Please note that if you call internationally, it is a toll call.

The energy challenge facing California is real. Every Californian needs to take immediate action to reduce energy consumption. For a list of simple ways you can reduce demand and cut your energy costs, see our website: <http://www.arb.ca.gov>.
