Voluntary submission of Envu's Climate-related Financial Risk Report under California SB 261

In compliance with the California Senate Bill 261 (Stern, Stats. 2023, ch. 383, codified in Health and Safety Code section 38533), Environmental Science U.S. LLC ("Envu") hereby voluntarily submits its Climate-Related Risks Report, which is incorporated into our Envu Sustainability Report 2025. The report is publicly available and may be accessed through the link provided below. The climate-related financial risk disclosures are located on page 51 and page 91–93.

The climate-related disclosures have been prepared in line with the Final Report: Recommendations of the Task Force on Climate-related Financial Disclosures (TCFD) (2017). The report covers Envu and all subsidiaries listed on page 84, reflecting the same reporting scope and organizational boundaries as those used in Envu's annual sustainability reporting.

This submission is respectfully provided to the California Air Resources Board (CARB) to demonstrate Envu's continued commitment to transparency, regulatory compliance, and responsible management of climate-related financial risks.
